3. Approval of Minutes

AYES – 3: Chew, Johnson, Queen
ABSTENTIONS – 5: Bruhns, Cluttz, Fadem, Robson, Washington
ABSENT – 5: Abelson, Gonsalves, Scott, B. Williams, Zukas

4. Update on Salesforce Transit Center and Wayfinding
Martha Velez, Facility Manager of Daily Operations, Transbay Joint Powers Authority (TJPA), gave an update on the Salesforce Transit Center (STC). Martha explained that the STC reopened last week after closing last summer, 6 weeks after the Grand Opening. During the six weeks the STC was open last summer, the TJPA received a lot of feedback from stakeholders and the general public. Some of the feedback included:
- Difficulty with wayfinding
- Unidentifiable Icons on the Pylon signs
- Information on the Pylon signs scrolling too fast
- Difficulty finding the Greyhound Bus
- No orientation to where someone is in the STC, especially in the elevators

The TJPA developed a Wayfinding Gap Analysis Request for Proposal (RFP) for experts and designers to develop a program to improve wayfinding, accessibility and improve orientation of the STC. The TJPA will review the two (2) proposals that were submitted, award and execute a contract. Improvements are expected to be complete one year after contract execution.

The Committee voiced the following concerns:
- Agencies are paying for a contractor to fix issues that should have been part of the delivery of services before the STC opened the first time.
- On the street level, customers can’t cross the street to get from AC Transit to Muni. There is a convoluted and dangerous path to transfer from one transit agency to the other.
- The visual overload and free standing vending machines can cause a problem.
- “Wheelchair Mobility Access Maps” should be installed so customers know the easiest way to an accessible route.
- The AAC should be invited to review the updated wayfinding efforts prior to implementation.
- The 11x17 signs are inadequate. The signs need to be much larger and should include bus destinations.

5. Review of ACT Real Time
Sandra Lewis-Williams, Senior Project Manager, provided instructions and a demo of ACT Real Time. AC Transit’s real-time information technology provides precise real-time bus locations and departure predictions for every AC Transit stop. With ACT RealTime, buses report their location every fifteen seconds—eight times more frequently than previous software.
ACT RealTime uses data from many sources including real-time bus locations, route information, and service notices to predict when each AC Transit bus will reach every stop on its line. The AC Transit website, third-party apps, 511 and other channels can also access these predictions.

Some factors that may lead to inaccurate reporting of arrival times include operator failure to log into the system, detours, equipment failure and traffic delays (i.e. car crashes).

Sandra stated that there will be consistent monitoring of the technology and software improvements and advances.

6. Discussion of why AC Transit isn’t a Clipper Only System
Sally Goodman, Title VI Program Administrator, reported on why AC Transit isn’t a Clipper Only system. Sally explained that she understood the concern that other transit agencies are going cashless and that the use of cash is outdated, increases maintenance and staff needs, and costs the District more money than going cashless.

The District must think about many considerations when reviewing fares and fare payment methods. All transit agencies, including AC Transit, must balance financial issues, equity and fairness, and operational efficiency to find the right fare and fare products. The District must consider the Title VI impact. Title VI of the Civil Rights Act prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, and national origin. Other regulations expand those protections to people on the basis of income. Equity is an important piece of fare payment considerations. AC Transit’s most recent onboard survey shows that 75% of riders are people of color and 67% live in low-income households. Almost one in five AC Transit rider live in households with less than $10,000 income. Many riders live in parts of the service area, where there are “Clipper deserts” in which Clipper retail vendors are scarce or not open all hours.

When the Board of Directors voted to change fares in 2013 to introduce the Clipper discount, a Title VI fare equity analysis was conducted. That analysis, which considered the elimination of transfers at the same time, showed that the differences between the impacts on populations protected by Title VI and the impacts on non-protected populations were small. But making it more difficult for people to pay with cash would increase those differences and would likely find that eliminating cash payment would be a violation of the Civil Rights Act.

There is a difference as to how can BART can be a Clipper only system. On BART passengers pay fares at the station. Every station has multiple Ticket Vending Machines (TVM) that accept cash, including the AddFare machines inside the fare gates. The TVMs also allow the purchase of Clipper Cards. On AC Transit, riders pay fares on board the
There are no TVMs at bus stops. And again, Clipper retail vendors are scarce in parts of the AC Transit service area.

However, future innovations could help get more people off of cash payment, including:

- Clipper 2. The next version of Clipper should include a mobile fare app, more retail vendors in the community, and might mean that we can add Clipper functionality to the TVMs on BRT stations.
- Next year, along with the MTC, several Bay Area transit agencies will begin a low-income fare pilot program, which will be all on Clipper.
- Since 85% of AC Transit ridership has smartphones, the District is looking to develop its own mobile fare payment app, which should be active before Clipper 2 goes active.

The Committee asked how much it costs the District to collect cash and asked the difference in median income between BART and AC Transit riders. Sally stated that she did not have those numbers but will report back to the Committee when she is able to get the answers.

7. Chair’s Report
None.

8. Board Liaison Report
H. E. Christian Peeples, Board of Directors, reported that:

- The ATU contract ended on July 1st. The ATU membership has voted to authorize a strike, despite ongoing negotiations. Should the union decide to strike, they must give the District 72 hours notice. The Board of Directors will be given a full briefing at the September 11th Board Meeting.
- The California Air Resources Board (CARB) adopted a regulation that all transit agencies must have 100% zero emission vehicles by 2040. By 2028, 100% of AC Transit bus purchases will be zero emission vehicles.

9. Review of Lift/Ramp Road Call Report
The Committee reviewed the Road Call report for August 4 – 24, 2019. Kimberly Ridgeway, Accessible Services Specialist, reported that there was an error on the spreadsheet and that of the eight (8) lift/ramp road calls, 7 were actually chargeable.

10. Service Review Advisory Committee (SRAC) Report
None. The next SRAC meeting will be held Tuesday, October 1st at the East Bay Paratransit offices at 1750 Broadway at 12:30 pm.

11. Alameda County Transportation Commission (ACTC) PAPCO Report
None.
12. Public Comments
Chris Mullin thanked Tammy for helping to broker a meeting with the AC Transit planner covering Western Contra Costa County, to review and improve accessibility of the bus stop at Regatta and North Shore in Richmond.

13. Member Communications and Announcements
Tanya Washington reported that:
- The USOAC Health Living Festival is September 19th at the Oakland Zoo, and they are seeking volunteers for the event.
- The USOAC is now starting travel training in the Eden Area.
Tanya gave both flyers to Kim Ridgeway who will email a copy to the Committee.

Jim Robson encouraged the Committee to:
- Visit the Oakland Zoo. The paths are now very accessible.
- Contact the local police department and specifically ask for a “Welfare Check” if they see someone distressed on the street, rather than just calling the cops on them.

Pam Fadem encouraged the Committee to contact 211 and see if there are Mental Health Crisis Agencies or Homeless Outreach Teams who can help with distressed individuals members of the Committee may come in contact with.

14. Staff Communications and Announcements
None.

15. Future Agenda Items & Next Meeting Date
The next AAC Meeting will be held Tuesday, October 8, 2019 at East Bay Paratransit, 1750 Broadway, Oakland, in the Community Room. Agenda items for the October 8th meeting will be determined.

Future Agenda Items:
- Ferry Connections
