FROM: Michael A. Hursh, General Manager
SUBJECT: FY 2016-17 Affordable Housing & Sustainable Communities Grant Application for Coliseum Place

ACTION ITEM

RECOMMENDED ACTION(S):

Consider adoption of Resolution No. 18-009 authorizing the General Manager, or his designee, to file an application and related documents under the FY2016-17 State of California’s Affordable Housing and Sustainable Communities program (“AHSC program”) as a joint applicant and joint grantee with Resources for Community Development (“RCD”) and with the City of Oakland (“City”) in connection with the project at 72nd Avenue and Hawley Street, Oakland, California (the “project”).

BACKGROUND/RATIONALE:

Senate Bill 862 established a long-term funding framework and programmatic categories for California’s Cap and Trade funding. The AHSC program is one of those programs and is administered by the SGC and allocated by the Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) through their funding agreements.

The AHSC program was created to reduce greenhouse gas emissions (GHGs) by creating more compact, infill development patterns, integrating affordable housing with sustainable transportation, and encouraging active transportation and transit usage. This is an ongoing program that, together with another funding program also administered by the SGC, will receive 20 percent of all Cap and Trade funds on an annual basis. Statutory requirements mandate that 50 percent of the entire program must be used for affordable housing and 50 percent must be spent in disadvantaged communities.

Eligible project applicants include government entities, transit agencies and developers. All of the proposed applications are led by the housing developers as the housing portion is the prominent and complex element. AC Transit is a co-applicant in each case along with the developer and the sponsoring city. In addition to the affordable housing component of the program, all applications are required to include a Sustainable Transportation Amenity and/or Transportation-Related Infrastructure component (TRI - in the District’s case, pedestrian and passenger improvements needed for new BRT stations). This is where the District contributed to the applications.

This report concerns a development at 72nd Avenue and Hawley Street in the City of Oakland. The Coliseum Place project is planned to be a 59 unit affordable housing development led by Resources for Community Development in partnership with the City of Oakland. The District would be a partner to the grant application that includes $4,750,000 in funds for construction of the BRT Stations, Bus Lanes, and related pedestrian, signal and safety improvements between 52nd and 83rd avenues. The application also includes $172,000 for three years of transit passes for the development and program administration.

Over the past several months, District staff has been working with Enterprise Community Partners (ECP), the Metropolitan Transportation Commission, developers and staff from the cities of Oakland, San Leandro and Alameda to collaborate on the five projects for the AHSC funding program for this round of applications. This represented a significant coordination effort, and District staff from Service Planning and Capital Planning and Grants spent a significant number of hours preparing applications and supporting data.

The District and the California State Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) recently negotiated the necessary Indemnity Agreement and all funding agreements for the first development (Grayson Apartments) in the City of Berkeley. District staff and legal counsel are strongly recommending that the same set of agreement templates and language be used for this next round of applications. District Staff has provided potential partners with the agreement framework and have received verbal assurances that the language is acceptable.

BUDGETARY/FISCAL IMPACT:

A grant award would provide the District $4,750,000, which would be applied to the BRT construction project for improvements within the development corridor. These funds would reduce the need for financing from the District to complete the funding for the BRT project. A grant award would also provide the developer with $172,000 to pay AC Transit for three years of transit passes for residents and administrative costs. No District funds would be required. Net proceeds to the District is $4,992,000.

ADVANTAGES/DISADVANTAGES:

Not applying for the funds would mean that the District would not be able to reduce its need to finance funding to complete the BRT construction.

Additionally, upon grant funding notification, joint applicants are required to sign and execute the SGC Standard Agreement to receive funding for the project, after which no joint applicant may be removed from the agreement. If any joint applicant declines the funding award, the entire grant award is cancelled and no portion of the project is funded.

ALTERNATIVES ANALYSIS:

Applications to this program start with affordable housing development opportunities where the developers have approached either their respective City and/or ECP. ECP functions as a “matchmaker” for projects around the region and helps coordinate the complicated applications. District staff then works with ECP and the cities to determine the projects that are most viable and where the District could benefit from investment and increase the chances of the application.

After reviewing over a dozen potential transit improvements to be paired with affordable housing developments, the Coliseum Place project was one of five applications out of a dozen or so that advanced to the full application stage. The project meets the primary needs of the District for additional BRT funding, and ECP and its partners believe that the full package of housing and transit elements is highly competitive for funds in this round.
